

From Laura Million:

Scouting Web: <http://scoutingweb.com/scoutingweb/>

This website has to be my favorite site for anything scouting. I love that it is broken down into years, so if you have a Brownie troop, everything under Brownie is age related. Even the ads at the bottom of the page are useful sites.

Leader's Landing: <http://www.geocities.com/Heartland/Pointe/9385/>

Resource site with program/resource ideas for new Girl Scout leaders

Swaps:

Making Friends: <http://www.makingfriends.com/swaps.htm>

Great ideas for swaps

Craft/Swap Resources: <http://www.geocities.com/Heartland/Pointe/9385/craft.htm>

More swaps

Songs:

From Sue Zimitsch:

jenerfer.speedyweb.com/jrbadgehelps.shtml - This website has ideas for Junior badge activities. It even has pages to print with worksheet type activities on them.

From Amy Fillback:

I have a couple of websites that I found some useful information and ideas.

www.dltk-kids.com has craft ideas for Holidays, Countries/cultures, and a few edible recipes.

www.makingfriends.com has craft ideas and their own "Badge in a Bag" programs for different ages levels. This one was helpful to me while planning out a few junior badges- it interpreted the activities needed to complete the badge and gave me some craft ideas.

partysupplieshut.com/word-search/ - this one has word searches for holidays and lots of themes.
